AFGHANISTAN BUSINESS DIALOGUE

What is the Afghanistan Business Dialogue?

The Afghanistan Business Dialogue is a quarterly scheduled series of seminars, events and discussions co-sponsored by the Afghan-American Chamber of Commerce (AACC) and the Embassy of Afghanistan to provide information to facilitate investment and business in Afghanistan. Events in 2006 included USAID Procurement and Contracting, World Bank Procurement and Contracting, Opportunities in Afghanistan's Energy Sector, and Opportunities in Privatization.

Reconstruction Opportunity Zones (ROZs): An Industry Briefing

The Reconstruction Opportunity Zones (ROZs): An Industry Briefing is the first event for 2007. Attend this event to find about ROZs, a new program for Afghanistan and border areas of Pakistan recently proposed by the Administration to Congress.

A senior-level State Department official and a representative from the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative will lead an informative presentation followed by a question and answer session. H.E. Ambassador Said Tayeb Jawad will remark on the Government of Afghanistan's perspective on ROZs. AACC's leadership will discuss the potential benefit to the private sector from such a program.

Companies that invest in these zones would gain incentives such as duty-free access into the U.S. market. Come find out about this exciting program and learn how your company might benefit from it.

Attendees will also be able to meet staff and members of the Afghan-American Chamber of Commerce (AACC), as well as Embassy officials.
